I agree and understand that:

I, the artist am responsible for delivering my artwork to the gallery and establishing full retail price(s). All works must be for sale (no NFS).

All items are to be tagged with the price, title, and the name of the artist on the back of each work. All works must be ready to hang or display. Please hang your work unless you absolutely are not able. If you have any prints and/or smaller items you would like to sell also, a merch table will be set up for artists.

All work presented for sale at Popped! art space will be on consignment basis. Upon sale of artwork, the artist will receive 70% of the retail price. The gallery will receive a commission of 30%.

The consignment period will expire at the end of the participating show. If artwork is in a group or individual show within the gallery, artwork must remain in the gallery until the exhibit has ended or the work(s) has/have been sold. Upon this agreement's expiration, the artist will make arrangements to come pick up any works, which have not been sold.

Upon delivery of artwork, each piece will be inventoried by the gallery. The gallery will take all precautions to protect the safety of the artwork, but it will not insure individual pieces. Artists are required to carry their own insurance on their artwork. The gallery is not responsible for works that are left after a shows expiration and will claim no responsibility for damaged works left past that date.

Placement and hanging of work(s) will be decided solely upon the gallery unless noted. The gallery reserves the right to decline any work that is unsuitable or inconsistent with the quality and style represented.

If you have made sales, the gallery will contact you. You can pick up your check/cash at the end of the existing show or during art pick up.

Any work left for more then 30 days after scheduled pick up date on the contract, with no prior arrangement, will be deemed abandoned and become property of Popped! art space. The gallery is not responsible for storing works after the end of a show.

I give Popped! art space permission to use digital/printed images of any art work on its website or for any promotional purposes as well as all other outlets including but not limited to newspapers, magazines, and other forms of electronic publications.

Artists are recommended to attend opening receptions to increase sales of their works. Attendance does not require the artist to stay the full duration of an opening, but suggest that they make an appearance.
